

IMPROVING THE QUALITY OF CHILDHOOD IN EUROPE

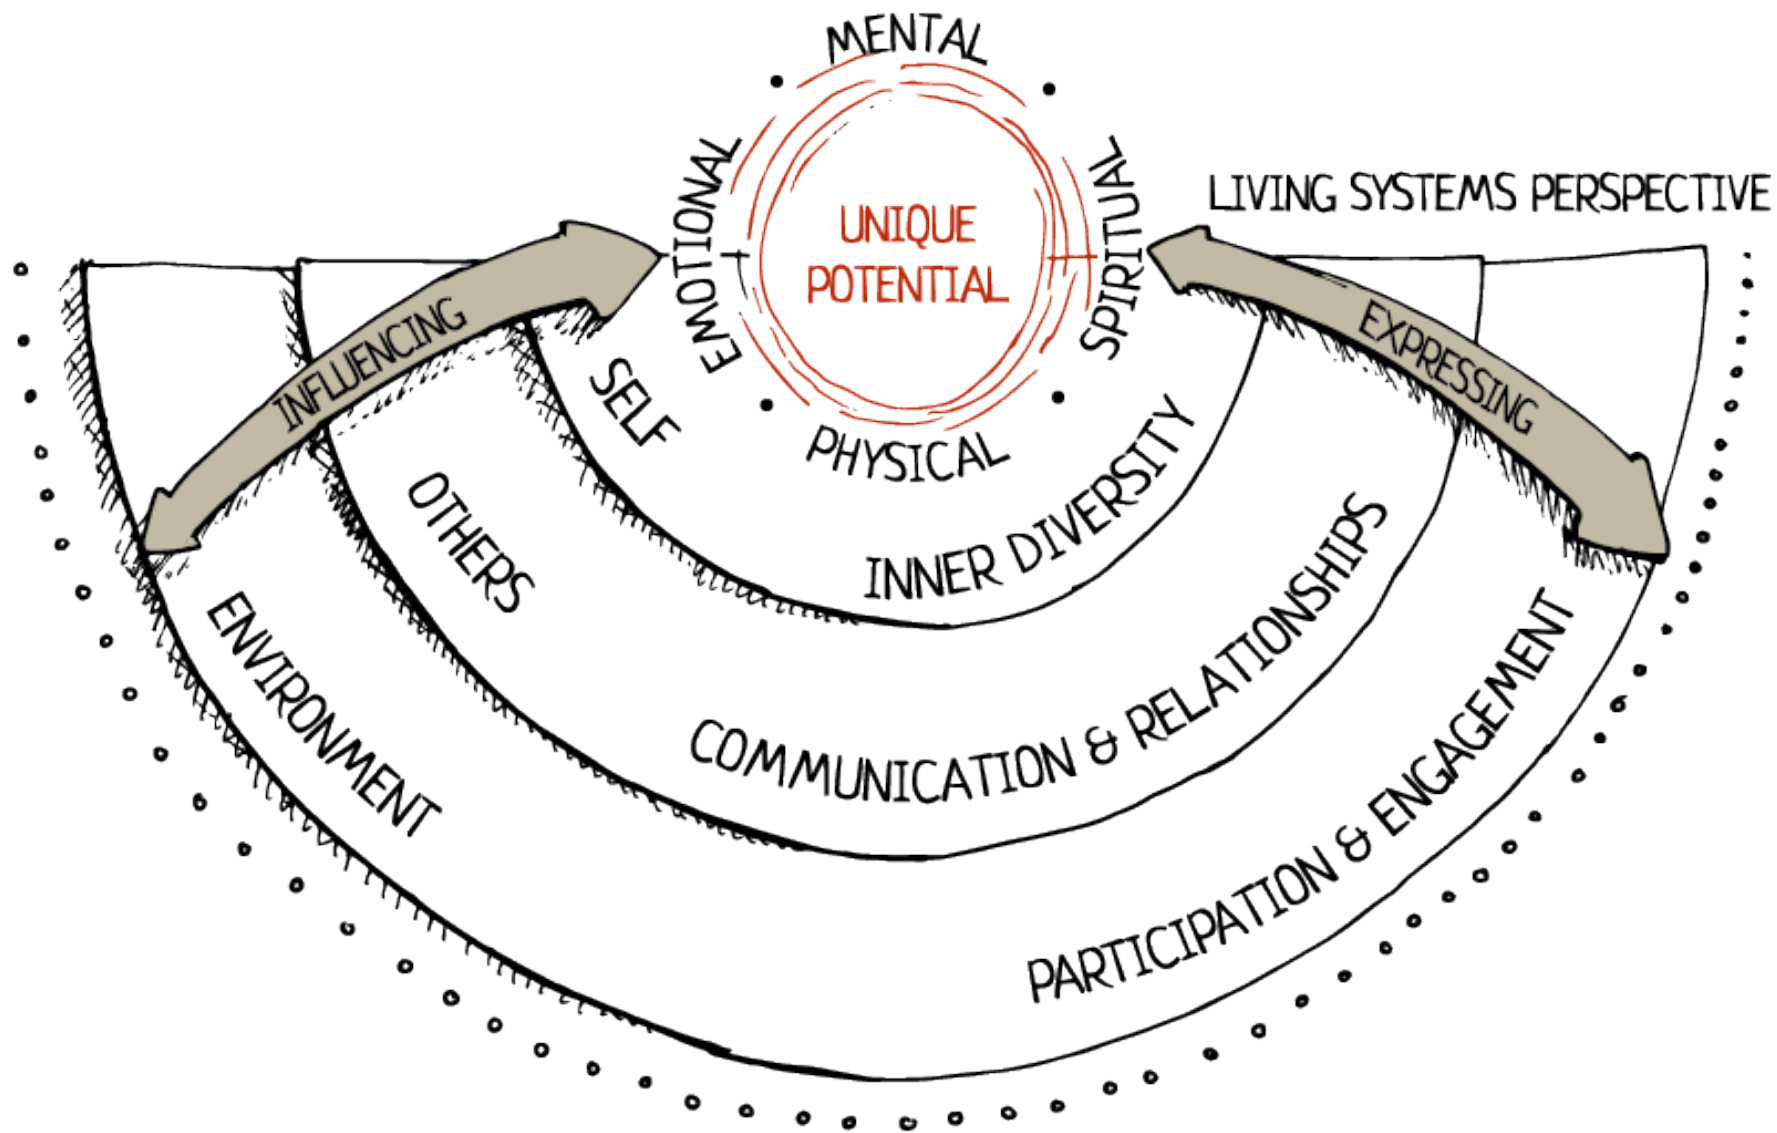

Elham Palestine

a multisector national partnership towards making schools more conducive to children's well-being.

What is the philosophy and approach of Elham?

What positive outcomes have resulted?

In which way can we apply the same approach in a European context?

'Elham Palestine'

a multisector national partnership towards making schools more conducive to children's well-being.

Dr. Marwan Awartani,
President, Khaduri Technical University
Co-founder and Secretary-General of the Universal Education Foundation

Universal Education Foundation

Universal Education Foundation is an advocacy-oriented foundation, registered in the Netherlands in 2004.

Strategy:

Acting as a catalyst;
Co-creative partnerships;
Quality relationships;

Purpose:

Cultivating creative and collaborative communities around Learning for Well-being

e.g.,

Elham (Palestine),

L4WB Consortium of Foundations in Europe,

L4WB Community

Executive Summary

The Voice of Children

Student Well-Being and the School Environment

Middle East Pilot
Preliminary Survey Results:
Palestine, Jordan and Lebanon Fall 2007
Ramallah, Palestine

Written by:
Marwan Awartani
Cheryl Vince Whitman
Jean Gordon

2.
An inclusive national multitier conversation
on the VoC findings:
about well being and learning environments:
engagement and inspiration

3. Building the national partnership around the Elham common agenda: localized fingerprints

4.
Reach out campaign
across the nation:
widening and deepening

5.
Engaging children and youth: our young partners

6.
Engaging national and local media:
newspapers, radios and TVs

Learning for Well-being

7. Cabinet endorsement and adoption: deeper mainstreaming and integration

Learning for Well-being

Working Group on the Quality of Childhood at the European Parliament (September 2015)

8. Achievement and International Recognition

